

In Loving Memory of
Jeannine Whitworth

*Shout joyfully to the Lord,
All the earth.
Serve the Lord with gladness;
Come before Him with joyful singing.
Know that the Lord Himself is God;
It is He who has made us,
And not we ourselves;
We are His people
And the sheep of His pasture.
Enter His gates with thanksgiving
And His courts with praise.
Give thanks to Him, bless His name.
For the Lord is good;
His lovingkindness is everlasting and
His faithfulness to all generations.*

~ Psalm 100

“For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face; now I know in part,
but then I will know fully just as I also have been fully known.”

~ 1 Corinthians 13:12

Personal History

Jeannine Frances Booth was born on February 18, 1929, in Roanoke, Virginia to Walter and Evelyn Booth.

Jeannine was married in 1951 to US Navy Electrician Russell Whitworth, who was deployed to serve on minesweepers in the Korean War. Waiting for Russell, Jeannine moved with her sister Norma Lee to work in the US Navy’s Ordnance facility in China Lake, California, where they could sometimes watch the flashes from Nevada’s atomic tests.

Jeannine and Russell’s Navy career took them from China Lake to Norfolk, Virginia; Oakland and Alameda, California; Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Sasebo, Japan; and San Diego, California. At these duty stations Jeannine became the mother of Allan, Daniel and Robert (Walter) Whitworth.

In 1968, Jeannine and Russell retired to Serra Mesa in San Diego. She worked as a Medical Assistant for Linda Vista Community clinic, as a clerk for the U.S.

Navy’s Anti-Submarine Warfare division, and then as an adoptions clerk for the county of San Diego, from which she retired. Work was replaced by zealous membership in the Sierra Club, and hiking whenever she could in the Cleveland National Forest. Later in life she would visit retreats back east, join bicycle tours in New Hampshire, and visit her hometown of Roanoke, Virginia.

Whether buzzing about Serra Mesa on her bicycle or electric scooter, saving king snakes from small mobs of ladies in Balboa Park, or bringing home tarantulas from hiking in the nearby canyons, Jeannine and her boys, cats and dogs were able to wring joy out of a frugal life along with her many friends.

Jeannine is survived by sister Norma Lee Booth; sons Allan, Daniel, and Robert Whitworth; grandchildren Nathanael, Timothy, Emma Lee Rose, and Benjamin Whitworth; and great-granddaughter Aria Rose Richardson.
